A "PROGRESS" Report from Indiana Prisons

Pendleton Correctional Facility

BibleTelling Graduation – January 27, 2015

One of the most encouraging times for me in prison ministry is the Graduation Celebration. The men share how learning and applying the Bible stories has changed their lives. Attending the graduation of our second class at Pendleton Correctional Facility (a maximum security prison) were the prison's highest officials. Following the ceremony, the graduates gathered around Supt. Zatecky to pray for him. The officials told me that they desire to utilize these men in helping inmates in other programs in the prison. They said they had observed the positive changes in the men's actions/behaviors and that they appreciated the contribution that our training has made in the prison and in these men's lives!

The next day, we had our largest Indiana prison graduation at the Correctional Industrial Facility. The graduates were allowed to invite family to the celebration. In addition to sharing how this program has helped them, several of the men told Bible stories they had learned, giving the audience an idea of what actually results from the training they receive.

Supt. Knight also announced the initial plans for a new housing community made up of men who have already graduated from our two classes as well as those participating in our next class that begins February 24th. This is an exciting opportunity to deepen, strengthen, and equip men in their walk with God and ministry to others. They will eventually be re-positioned in the other housing units throughout the prison. Please pray for this initiative... We are calling it the "Shamgar Community" after a little known judge of Israel (Judges 3:31) who "started where he was...with what he had...and did what he could!" I'll be letting you know what develops!
